Merchants Up In Arms About Proposed Taxes

Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

I am still high.

Marquise the Magician was here Tuesday night. Paul Johnson would give him a hundred dollars a day to help get up all that money.

Paul's pesky payrollers, parading precariously toward the poorhouse.

Paul's punky payrollers, pervaded with pseudo perspicacity.

When they start on the monster, we poor aldermen get a rest anyway.

Head those payrollers! They have gone plum loco.

I was for this program until they started talking about doubling MY privilege tax. Now I am agin it, teeth and hang nails.

As long as they were pecking on the other fellow, it was Me and Paul. Now it is different.

The old generation would never send a boy to mill. This new generation however sends school boys to the legislature.

One of the members of the legislature went to Jackson, Tennessee before he found out that he should have gone to Jackson, Mississippi. Whitfield would be better.

We thought Hugh was bad enough.

One thing to the everlasting credit of Paul Johnson can be said. He is actually doing what he promised to do, and thereby has broken every political precedent known to man.

Everyone is mighty glad to hear that little Prich Horton stood his serious operation well, and that he is coming along OK again.

Just because our puppy, Penny alias Bilbo, would not eat ham, Tommie Rose sorter fell out with the pup.

dere mr top. i wuz n jaxon wensdy and hurd won feller laff an say he didn no whether mr jonsing had the flu or the flew. what did he mere mr top.

I wrote Ed McCormick a nice letter Sunday night which he should have received Monday morning. I asked him to write, for publication, a brief resume of how he had voted on various important matters - just a mere report to the people on his stewardship, I have not heard from him yet, Thursday morning. Maybe he does not want to make a report to his people, thru this newspaper. I am going to publish my letter next week to let the folks judge whether it was a fair, nice letter.

Where are they going to get the money.

I visited briefly in the state senate Wednesday afternoon. Albert Lake and Dave Crawley were giving the proposed raise in advalorem taxes from 6 to 8 mills, plenty of hell. Thank goodness, somebody will arise and speak for the incoherant, unorganized group of average taxpayers. Winter was agin it too.

I looked over at Paul's office. The big front door was open, I know. A person like myself, who wanted nothing, would have shocked him to death, so I did not visit him.

Saw my old friend George Nobles, but Mike Conner had gone to Seminary to his farm.

The members of the Legion in Grenada are emphatically against House Bill 222 designed to do away with the identity of the Fish and Game Commission.

Joe Neely, head of Grenada Auto Company, has a remarkable record. He began as automobile dealer February 12, 1910. When there was only one car in Grenada County, he signed a contract to sell cars. He is the first Plymouth and Chrysler dealer in the state, and continues to sell these cars. He also handles Coleman heaters and Norge refrigerators.

Traffic lights unobserved are worse than no lights at all, as we have repeatedly said. To be effective, observance should be 100 percent. This 97 percent, or less, observance about Grenada could smear headlines in blood some of these days when ONE car observes, and ANOTHER does NOT observe the lights. These lights should be observed, or junked.

Brother Harry Wilson, one of the defeated candidates, has not missed a meal or a shave.

Sharp and Odom Were Nominated Saturday By Close Vote

In a fast and furious election, in which the greatest number of voters ever to participate in a city election took place Robert W. Sharp was nominated as Grenada's next mayor, and Willard Odom was nominated as Grenada's next city marshal, on last Saturday, February 24th.

The official returns are:

For Mayor

| | W.W. | E.W. | Total |
|---|---|---|---|
| E. C. Neelly | 191 | 163 | 354 |
| R. W. Sharp | 212 | 201 | 413 |

For Marshal

| | W.W. | E.W. | Total |
|---|---|---|---|
| J. D. Crenshaw | 156 | 181 | 337 |
| Willard Odom | 249 | 185 | 434 |

Nominated in the first primary on February 17th were the six aldermen: from East Ward, J. B. Horn and Clarence Burt; from West Ward, Harry Burkley and J. D. Moss; from city at large, Claud Perry and Whyte Whitaker.

Officers who will retire in May are E. C. Neelly, mayor; J. D. Crenshaw, city marshal and aldermen John Bradley, John McEachin and G. S. Kent (who did not offer for nomination).

Mrs. W. Y. West, city recorder, was renominated without election, as no one offered to run against her.

When the new board is organized the first Monday in May, it will appoint several subordinate police officers, a street commissioner, a superintendent of the water department, and several minor officers. At this time, Messrs. Odom, Yeager and Williams are in the police department; Mr. McCune Talbert is street commissioner; Mr. F. A. Kincaid is head of the water department; Eaf Smith is poundkeeper.

Whether the new officers will serve for two years or for four years, and whether Mr. Odom and Mrs. West are really "elected", or merely nominated will depend on the outcome of the proposed amendments to the city charter, which are NOW effective, UNLESS these amendments are petitioned "out" or voted "out". If NOTHING is done, the mayor and the aldermen will serve only two years, and the office of city marshal and the office of city recorder (or clerk) will be filled by appointment by the new board.

It is understood unofficially that petitions, asking the board to call an election on the proposed amendments are to be circulated and presented to the board on March 4th. It is understood that an effort will be made to get sufficient signatures on these petitions so that there will be a MAJORITY of the electors on them. In that event, it is quite certain that the board will ditch the whole matter, WITHOUT an election.

McLean Property Bought By Baptist Church

After long negotations, the members of the First Baptist Church purchastd from the McLean heirs a portion of McLean point, between Line and Main Streets. The property purchased starts at the apex of the triangle and runs southward to within fifty feet of the McLean house. It is understood that of the First Baptist Church purchased and the McLean house will be opened and dedicated to public use.

The historic First Baptist Church at the corner of Main and Second Streets was destroyed by fire in the month of December last year. The members decided, though the decision was not unanimous, to relocate the church in the residential section. The final purchase of the McLean property was consumated last week. An architect from Chattanooga is not engaged to draw plans for the new church, which its members hope to be a credit to the fine tranditions of its membership, as well as a credit to the city of Grenada.

Brother R. H. Herring, we are happy to announce, has become a regular receiver of the GCW. Still we lack a good deal of having 80 percent of the homes of the county on our list.

We hate to give up Miss Lottie Wood, H. D. A., but congratulate on her on the raise in salary which carries her to Panola County. Mrs. Austen Neely of Charleston is to take Miss Wood's place in this county.

R. W. Sharp, Our New Mayor

Jolt In Truck Is Fatal To CCC Enrollee

It seems that four CCC boys of the local camp here at Grenada, made a ride that was to take the life of one of them, James Loden.

Sometime during the early part of the night, Sunday, Feb. 25, they allegedly slipped one of the CCC trucks out to come to town, and rode over Grenada and other points of interest thereabout. It seems that James Woods, George Henry Nelson, and Walter Frank Grace occupied the cab of the truck, while the victim of the accident Jake Loden occupied the back end of the truck.

Coming from the northern part of town, by way of Levee Street they were supposedly going back to the Fair Grounds, where the CCC unit is located. Not being familiar with the streets of Grenada, they kept straight down Levee Street instead of turning to the right at Fourth Street. There is a rather unusual bump at the street crossing and at this intersection James Loden is supposed to have received the fracture of his skull.

Wednesday morning at 10:00 the truck was brought back to the scene of the accident to re-enact as far as possible the incident. When the truck crossed the bump Wednesday it was making 22 miles per hour and the back end bounced at least 2 feet off the ground. At the time the boy was fatally injured the truck was supposed to have been going wide open, or around 40 miles per hour. Since the truck bounced two feet off the ground going 22 it is likely it bounced much higher doing 40 miles per hour. James Loden sitting in the back of the truck, with the curtains up, naturally didn't expect such a jar, and the jolt of the truck, according to observers was enough to have fractured his skull.

Clayton Carpenter, Deputy Sheriff, said, "I think that jar was great enough to have delivered the fatal blow". Dr. Clanton, County Health Officer, also thinks that the blow was sufficient to have killed him, if his head hit some iron object in the truck.

The boys said that they didn't discover his condition until they arrived at camp. They were in a hurry to get back to the CCC camp before they were caught with the truck that they had taken out without being authorized by proper authorities.

Coroner and Ranger, Thompson said they had done all they could with the evidence they had, but that they had left the case open for further investigation.

His body was buried at Sparta Cemetery in Beat Five Tuesday. His parents live in Beat Five.

It looks like the relations between Paul Johnson Horton and his main lieutenant in the western part of the county have cooled since the disappearance of a big bag of pecans from Horton's office.

OUR NEW MARSHAL

WILLARD ODOM

Hamp Dogan Died Last Friday at Charleston

Hundreds of friends in Grenada county will regret to hear of the death of Sheriff J. H. Dogan of Tallabatchie county in his home in Charleston last Friday, February, 23, 1930.

Three times sheriff of his county, "Hamp" Dogan was as popular a man as ever lived in the county. His people, the Dogans and Rices, have been the leaders of our sister county since the Civil War. In addition to being sheriff and deputy sheriff, alternately, Mr. Dogan was engaged extensively in farming, dealing in mules, ginning and other activities.

He is survived by his widow; by two sons, and one daughter, Mss. Brad Dye; three brothers, George Dogan of Shreveport, Harry Dogan of Sumner and Dave W. Dogan of Grenada, and two sisters, Mrs. Chester Brown, of Asheville, N. C, and Mrs. John Pressgrove of Charleston.

He was buried Saturday afternoon. Hundreds of friends, including many from Grenada and Grenada County, went to pay their last respect to this man whom they loved so well.

The Grenada county friends of Hamp Dogan, including the Grenada County Weekly, extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

ROBERTS HAS BIG DAY

The Roberts Hardware Co. sponsored a free show, February 26. The attendance was remarkable, only a few seats were left vacant. An all-Hollywood production was shown, "Joel Gentry in Hollywood", also four other all-talking pictures, on improved methods of farming with John Deere implements.

Prizes were given, and the lucky ones were: Preacher Hankins, receiving two bridles, and L. L. Clark, of Polcomb, winning an axe.

P-o-o-or Mississippi.

Grenada Hosiery Mill Is One of Few Knitting Nylon

"Nylon", the new fabric being produced by the Dupont people, will, beginning this week, be used in a large number of the knittin machines at Grenada Industries, replacing the silk fabric used, and may, in the future, replace entirely the usage of silk in this industry.

In that only the higher type hosiery factories of the United States are privileged to use this new fabric, it speaks well of our factory's standing to be one of thirty factories that use this new fabric.

Without being technical - which we cannot be - about nyon, it is a synthectic fabric which is manufactured by Dupont from water, coal and air - elements which are practically inexhaustible in this country. Dupont has carried this new fabric beyond the experimental stage, and has invested about eight million dollars in a plant to be devoted entirely to the manufacture of nyon.

Several of the knitting machines in the Grenada plant have been using nyon in the production of stockings, and the management there thinks so highly of it that approximately one-half the machines will produce nyon stockings - adjudged by practically all tests to be superior to silk - within a short time.

While at the hosiery mill, we had occasion to note the cards upon which the temperature and the humidity of the interior are recorded. So accurate is the control of these two elements, temperature and humidity, that throughout a day the temperature in the building does not vary over one-half a degree, and the humidity does not vary more than one-half percent. This control is obtained through a marvelous air conditioning machine which Mr. Goodman installed in the building last year. That it has proven highly satisfactory is beyond question.

Elaborate equipment is being installed at a cost of about eight thousand dollars, which, thru a complicated chemical process, too lengthy to detail here, the water used in the manufacturing processes will be purified. After being processed, our city water will become just like rain water.

Thirty new boys and girls have been added to the pay roll in recent weeks.

Some of the boys who, just a short time ago, were facing jobs at low wages, if at any, are now receiving around $25.00 per week at the factory.

NEW DENTIST IN GRENADA

Dr. W. A. Spearman, Jr., formally of Water Valley, has set-up an office in Grenada, occupying the office above Cook's Novelty Shop. Dr. Spearman comes highly recommended by his Water Valley friends, having practiced his chosen profession three years there.

We welcome both him and his charming wife to the City Beautiful.

Poor Mississippi.

Faced with the imminence of being saddled with heavy increases in taxes to support the "average man" policies of the Johnson administration, the business men of Grenada county, having held an indignation meeting last week, continued to hold street-corner indignation meetings and indignation meetings wherever two or three men of the county met over what they believe to be the probability of confiscatory taxes. This indignation was not confined to the city of Grenada, not to the merchant class of people, for many business men of Holcomb and other smaller towns were included.

Several committees of men in Grenada spent Monday and Tuesday "toting a list", and collecting contributions to forward to state headquarters to help finance the battle against ruinous taxation. As one prominent business man expressed it: "We send men to Jackson, at great expense, to help us - now we are called upon to collect huge sums of money to protect ourselves from these self same men. It seems paradoxical to me that we have to purchase justice from OUR OWN representatives, as if we were buying meat, meal or molasses. In short, were I not a church member I would say it is a hell of a note". This statement seemed to strike a key note in Grenada.

Grenada forwarded to Jackson headquarters of what one man called the "anti-average man" organization many dollars, which represented the collections of five dollar bills, one dollar bills and fifty cent pieces of all persons of this county. Some of the money remains here to continue the fight.

These indignation meetings here were similar to hundreds of such meetings held in other towns and villages of the state. Faced with the probability of increased expenditures by the state of from 4 to 8 millions of dollars, carrying the total appropriations of 22 millions in the Conner administration to the 48.50 millions under the average man program, the people here in Grenada are not only sorely perplexed, but absolutely astounded at the proposed upping of the state budget.

The Western Union and the U. S. mails have been freely used in informing Grenada's representation at Jackson the views - mostly hostile - to the proposed spending spree, and in urging that representation to put the soft pedal on appropriatiins.

A movement is on foot for a large committee, repesetnative of the whole county, to go to Jackson and personally present their views to Grenada's representation.

HURRAH FOR SENATE

Wednesday the state senate, by a close vote, refused to saddle 1.3 more taxes on the "average" taxpayer, the ad valorem tax payer.

This is the best sign that has come from Jackson in many, many weeks.

My Column

A lot can be said, but nothing done, about the weather we have had for the past month or two. During our short span on earth, this cold spell just recently passed was the longest and coldest ever witnessed by us. However, it will give us something to talk about when brother Sol starts bearing down about 100 notches.

How some people can make a towering mountain out of a dwarfish mote Hill!

Seven of us Grenadians went up to Ole Miss to the Phi Mu Sorority dance Friday night. Among the celebrated night hawks were: James Russell (Rhett Butler) Lockett, Donald (Chick Little) Lockett, Hector (Buddie Boy) Lane, Ernest (Caney Lake) Penn, Ed (Lady Killer) Penn, Charles (Choppy) Andrews, and the writer (who by the way, caught hell about something that didn't amount to nothing, before leaving for Oxford.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you; cry and you cry alone". Please remember that. It is worth while.

Seemingly, we are to have a "new deal" here in Grenada as soon as the new officials take office. For it was made clear, in no uncertain terms, that certain business houses would be forced to cease operations.

Governor Johnson can easily explain why he called those bankers, railroad executives, big shot oil men, etc. the "average man". When he comes up for election next time he can tell us poor people that he just wanted to let those stiff-collared fellows know that they weren't any better than you and me.

Personal to Claude Shaw: We saw our daughter, Ruth, in Senatobia the other night. She wants the GCW for the rest of the school year. It won't cost you but 50 cents, and since you won't have to do without many meals to send it to her, we suggest that you let the "bull" go north.

There surely was a "good looker" visiting here in Grenada over the week-end. She visited Miss "Cryptogamia Apennine-Parnassia" if you know the meaning of those words, and use a little discretion in your interpretation you can solve the clue. We dare not even breathe the hostess' name, for it got us into trouble enough last week. And believe me, we don't relish trouble of that sort.

Almost impassable conditions of many roads seems troublesome in the northern section of the county. Much damage to main highways, as well as minor roads are reported. A fellow from the "Mighty East" said it was impossible to travel in a car, and they had gone to using mud boats.

Bright, warm springtime days are just around the corner. Already nature is stirring—warning that another season of production is at hand.

Wasn't surprised a bit about the outcome of the Jitterbug contest held here last Friday night. It was a foregone conclusion as far as we were concerned that Jack Hudson and his partner would win.

William Green Hill visited Grenada recently, driving a car so long that it took two city blocks for him to turn around in. Since his wife can afford such a car, it looks like he would pitch in two bucks for the GCW. Little Francis Hill is getting tired of mailing him the paper after Dr. Hill gets through with it.

"Plug" Irby thinks that the car he bought from George Terrell for ten dollars is worth fifty. It might be. But since George isn't in the habit of giving things away, we would be a little bit skeptical of it.

The Water Valley football team was mowed down Tuesday like ripe wheat before the sickle blade.

CARD OF THANKS

I am deeply grateful to the people of Grenada for their votes which elected me to the post of city marshal for the next term. I feel grateful too to many country friends who "pullld" for me.

The best way I can show you that I do appreciate your confidence in me will be in attempting to make Grenada the best marshal it ever had and this I propose, with the help of the good people, to do.

Sincerely,
WILLARD ODOM

MT. NEBO NEWS

Mrs. Mattie Trusty, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. M. O. Gray, is very sick.

General opinion here is that our legislature should stop everything else until they pass a law with teeth in, or to it, putting a heavy penalty on anyone using the name of Confucius in presecne of over one hearer.

Mrs. Charles Byars, who runs the school lunch room here at Coles Creek school, has been quite sick all of the past week. Her husband, Chas. Byars, has been bed-ridden for three years on account of a broken back.

It is none of our business about the municipal election at Grenada, but it caused a stir here. It is an awful sin to bet, but all the same many sheckels changed hands here on account of it.

Yesterday and today, both pretty days, gives us something to rejoice about. Many are burning brush heaps to sow cabbage and tobacco seed the old fashioned way.

CASCILLA NEWS

This being the home coming week for college students several are here for the week-end viz: Miss Jane and Miss Inez Whitten and Miss Minnie Frances and Edith Scott Pressgrove.

Mr. Ben Stalling who is a student of Senatobia Junior College, is visiting his brother, Mr. Lewis Stalling the principal of Cascilla school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smallwood who are at present located at Marks are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Whitten, the parents of Mrs. Smallwood and while here together attended the funeral of Sheriff J. H. Dogan, of Charleston.

The Cascilla basketball team of boys played at Grenada Saturday evening but was defeated by a small margin. They leave one more chance to win at Oxford on 2nd of March.

The little community of Cascilla was saddened and a fall of gloom was cast over it when the death of Mr. Hamp J. H. Dogan was known. He was one of Tallahatchie's beloved citizens and was one of Cascilla's young men, who had gone out and made a name for himself. It was here he spent his school days and grew into manhood and met and married his adorable wife (Miss Bloodworth) made his home here and his home was blessed by the birth of his daughter, Malese and all of his neighbors, friends and relattives loved and respected him and we know lived to be helpful and kind to his fellowman, loyal to his friends in times of need using his means to make other lives more happy and in behalf of Cascilla we offer our sympathy to his wife and family and relatives in their sorrow.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Congratulations to Jackson, the Printer who, thru sheer merit, has again secured a large contract from the Federal Compress.

We can print too but are not equipped to handle 'no sich' job as that. While Jack is busy with that huge order for the next few months, let the GCW pick up a few morsels around Grenada.

Well, we are glad we have got the 'average man' issue settled to the satisfaction of all.,

Bet and L know that we are two of the Square Dealers, and are wondering who the other two are.

It looks like the state senate has taken a case of the studs. It looks like they cannot get the steam rollers running in the upper branch, but, my me, how smooth they operate in the House!

We have had so many new subscribers and renewals that we will have to make mention of them next week.

If Mike Conner had been a Square Dealer, he would be governor today. That Square Deal stuff is potent, and cannot be beat.

See where Jimmie Arrington, between trips to Washington and Richmond, is putting Hugh White in the pit against Bilbo. Poor Hugh.

Whyte, Jr., talking about the Chinaman feeding our puppy Bilbo, is going to get Bilbo, who eats regularly at Rose Cafe, in bad.

LOST—Dink Thomason.

John McEachin, towering member of the board, who lost out at the election, is not losing any sleep over his defeat. John was an apostle of economy, and his defeat proved that people merely give lip service to "economy", that they always want economy on the other fellow, or on the other plan.

We have been so busy preaching the Square Deal doctrine that we almost forgot Mitchell, who is still at Parchman.

Dear George Lickfold: Your continued interest is most sincerely appreciated. I will run a "repeat" soon.

One of the paradoxes of government: about 175,000 voters of Mississippi expressed a desire to dance last August. Not a damn one of them want to kick in with a tip to the fiddlers.

Convenient Routes to Garden Lanes

MISSISSIPPI'S PILGRIMAGE TRAIL will wind through two score or more of the capital city's most beautiful gardens this year. The Jackson Garden Club tours, beginning April 21st and extending through April 28th, will take visitors over such picturesque flagstone walks as that shown above into an enjoyable realm of cool green lanes and gayly vari-colored blossoms. Directional instructions may be procured at Jackson hotel desks. Three of the main arteries of the State Highway Department's newly constructed system of modern paved roads, US 51, US 49 and US 80, make a journey to Jackson swift and pleasant.

Someway or another, we do not believe that the legislature is going to pass a bill giving the governor power to remove sheriffs and other county officers.

If John Bradly is hurting, he is hurting on the inside, for no chargin shows on his face or in his manner and conservation.

Talbert Yeager says, tho defeated, he has lost neither sleep nor a single meal.

Wonders never cease! Page Robert E. Ripley! The wimmen of the Gore Springs Community, 35 of them, kept a secret for over a month. They planned and executed a "pounding" for Miss Lottie Wood, and kept the affair so much under cover that nobody outside the circle knew anything of it until it actually happened. They say Lottie got enough food to last a month.

According to one of the defeated candidates, there are more liars in Grenada to the square inch than in any place this side of hades.

Old man Joe Williams is just plodding along, saying nothing.

Miss Wood Gives Pointers On Cotton Fabrics

In a short time homemakers will be thinking about spring and summer sewing. The woman in Grenada County are taking clothing as the major project this year and we are especially interested in making their own clothes.

Retail stores are bginning to show cotton prints, percales, ginghams, organdies, broadcloths, piques, and many new and unusual cotton fafrics.

The cheif virtue of cotton fabrics for most people is that they wash and iron easily. It's well to find out before buying whether a piece of material has been preshrunk, and how much more it may be expected to shrink in laundering. Also whether the color is fast to laundering and to light.

"Mercerized cottons have had a chemical treatment applied either to the yarn or to the cloth. This treatment makes the cotton lustrous, smooth stronger, and esistant to soiling. It also takes dye better.

"Pure finished" cotton materials are virtually free from removable sizing substances. If firmly woven of uniformly sized yarns regularly spaced, a pure-finished cotton will look practically the same after washing as before. A poor quality cotton fabric, on the other hand, has uneven yarns, perhaps defects in the weave, and excessive sizing that gives body to the fabric when it is new but disappears in the washing, leaving the cloth limp and porous.

"Ply" means the number of single strands twisted together to form yarn for weaving. For example, both the warp and the filling yarns of a "two-by-two" cotton broadcloth are "plied" or twisted to make a fine, close-woven cloth; better than a "two-by-two", in which only the warp is a ply yarn.

In cotton lace, heavy designs on fragile backgrounds soon breaks out. The best wearing lace is firm, and the design covers practically all of the surface, leaving only a small amount of mesh.

There's a new free Government bulletin on "Judging Fabric Quality." It may be obtained by writing to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Ask for Farmers' Bulletin 1831-F

Let's Have Peace

A bitter, hard-fought municipal election is over in Grenada.

Perhaps it is true that each side introduced elements into the election that should not have been in the election.

Perhaps it would be true to say that both the winners and losers in the campaign were it to be run over, would omit saying some things that were said, and omit doing some things that were done.

Be that as it may, the people have spoken. One sun has set; another has risen. Each loser, we understand, publicly congratulated his successful opponent. If the losers can do that openly and conscientiously, which we hope they did, then the rank and file of the people can do likewise. Those who "lost" can lick their sores, get in the collar, and help make the nominees good officers. Or, if they want to act mean about it, perpetuate their ill feelings beyond the day of election and nurse their hate and misery. But this would be foolish as well as futile. The "winners" should accept their victories not so much as personal triumphs to brag, boast and gloat over, but as heavy responsibilities to the sovereign people.

Let's have peace in Grenada. Let's have cooperation. Let's pull together. Let's bury the old animosities and hatreds. Let's forget the petty bickerings and abandon them. The City of Grenada is soon to see the close of a successful city administration—for which the writer seeks and claims no credit. Let's try to have a more successful one when the new one begins in May.

With no apologies for the present administration, this writer, both as editor of this newspaper and as an humble member of the present and the future city government, wishes to express to the new mayor, to the new marshal and to his new associates on the board, his sincere desire to cooperate with them and each of them in the hope that Grenada may move on forward towards its destiny, that being of the "Crossroads of North Mississippi."

To the mayor who is to retire, the city owes thanks for heading an administration which saw Grenada make wonedrful progress—some elements of which the city administration was directly responsible for. In accepting his defeat, he can do so with the knowledge that nearly a majority of his people endorsed him, that only a few votes separated defeat from victory.

To the mayor who is soon to assume the lead in this growing little city of ours, let it be said that he will enter upon a position filled with vexation of spirit and test of patience and endurance, a job well worth the money received to fill. In accepting his victory he should do so with the consciousness that he received a mandate from the people to "go forward", that he has the green light.

To the marshal who was defeated after many years service, it might be said, as he himself has said "Grenada has been good to me, honoring me many times." Veteran of many political battles, the target for hostile criticism, and for many years in the forefront of the Grenada political arena, this man, even in defeat, may well congratulate himself that he had as many political friends left as he did—almost one-half.

To the marshal who is to take office in May, it may well be said that he too received his mandate from the people, and from those who took active in terest in his campaign. He too will have his cares and responsibilities, as well as the honors of the office he will occupy. And now, speaking as an alderman, we repeat what we publicly stated BEFORE election: He should be head of the police department, and he should have a mighty voice in the selection of those with whom he is to police the city, and that we believe that a majority of the new aldermen think like we do: That the marshal should be boss, and that the marshal's recommendations concerning his assistants should have great weight. Speaking as one alderman, we reserve our veto power, but will not vote to appoint a policeman unless he is acceptable to the new marshal.

To the old officers, good luck; to the new, happy days; to Grenada, progress and prosperity—and peace.

The Average Man

By the greatest majority ever given a candidate for governor, the advocate of the average man was elected last summer. The average man's advocate made no secret of the many things that he was going to have the state give the average man and the average man's children, the average man's sick folks, the average man's pregnant wife, and the average man's tax bill. In running on this platform devoted to the well-being of the average man, the average man's advocate was overwhelmingly sent to the governor's chair.

The fellow who merely told the folks that he would give the average man only that much that the average man was able and willing to pay for, was returned very emphatically to private life. Folks with only elementary learning knew what "a dollar a day" menat: but these folks did not know, and naturally were not in position to know "what they were willing and able to pay for." They therefore, voted for something they could understand—a dollar a day, free school books, free hospitalization, etc., etc.

The dance for the average man has started. In spite of the fact that 175,000 people of Mississippi wanted this dance, not a damn one of them wants to pitch in a copper cent to help pay the fiddlers. Aint that a helluva come off?

Me and Paul.

Three-Dollar Car Tags

In a long editorial, "These Are Simple Reasons Why It Can and Will Be Done", in the Clarion-Ledger on February 22 (please observe the date—Washington, the truth teller's birthday) Editor Hed Man seeks to show that the county roads will not suffer from he reduction in auto license taxes, and says:

"Collecting taxes from those now dodging the ad valorem tax would pay for giving the honest car owners this needed relief from this unjustifiably excessive tag tax. For tht counties could use this additional revenue for road purposes."

Having served on the county board of supervisors and on the city board, we are somewhat familiar with the assessment rolls of Grenada County and of the City of Grenada, and we state positively that the collection of the ad valorem taxes on cars, on which ad valorem taxes are not now collected, will lack thousands of dollars in Grenada County of overcoming the loss which would result to the road funds by the reduction of the car tags from present levels to $3.00 flat.

We would estimate that, at most, 100 cars which are assessed in Grenada County, fail to pay ad valorem taxes. A few of these are erroneous assessments, a few double assessments, and some cars belong to people who leave the county. But, let us say that 100 cars, actually in the county and subject to tax, fail to pay ad valorem taxes. These cars, by and large, are jaloppies, assessed at from $50.00 to $150.00, certainly at an average of $100.00. The average tax levy in this county is about 45 or 50 mills, say 50. Let us add that some of our supervisor's beats have no levy for road purposes whatever, and that one had 2 mills. Let us grant, however, that there is a uniform levy of 2 mills for road purposes—to be liberal with Mr. Tom.

If Johnson's proposed law to force a car owner to pay ad valorem taxes before he can get a tag is passed, and if EVERY car owner in Grenada County complies with the law—which he will not, of course—then the county will collect on these 100 cars valued at $100.00 each a total of $5000.00. Put that on one side of the page or let's be liberal with Mr. Tom and make it $1000.00. Of this $1000.00, only a very small part will go to the road funds. Not over $20.00, but let's say $100.00 to be liberal. All right, let's make it $500.00, which it TWENTY-FIEV times what it really would be.

In reducing the car tags from the present levels to a $3.00 flat rate, Grenada County road funds will suffer a loss of about $8.00 each on over one thousand cars, or at least $8,000.00, but let's be liberal again and make it a $5,000.00 loss.

Can $20.00, the real gain, overcome $8,000.00, the real loss? Being extremely liberal, can $500.00 gain overcome a loss of $5,00.00?

Mr. Tom, in his solicitude for the avérage man, has apparently forgotten the arithmetic that he learned over in Scott County.

We Have Seen It Happen In Grenada

Human nature is human nature and politics is politics in Louisiana and elsewhere.

Many a Mississippi editor and reporter, and many a Mississippian who has been elected to state office, may grin acknowledgement of the truth of this account which we clip from the editorial column of a New Orleans daily, printed two days after Sam Jones beat Earl Long and the state machine.

"We strolled over toward the Monteleone Wednesday afternoon after work to congratulate Sam Jones. As we passed the gaudy headquarters of Earl Long on St. Charles Street, as busy as a bee hive for a month previous with flocking patriots who knew exactly what they wanted, we looked in through the front door to inspect the wake that might have been in progress. But all we saw was two tired caretakers or gentlemen of leisure dozing on a couple of cold wooden chairs in a sea of waste paper.

"At the Monteleone, the lobby was crowded and all corridors leading to the inner places that harbored Jones and Noe and the other heroes were jammed with a pulling, shoving, sweating crowd eager to get to the great. When the sun sets in one place it is always rising in another.

"We didn't have our htadgear and shinguards with us, so we didn't try to buck the center or play the ends in order to light our incense before the inner altar. Sam lost a treat. As we passed out, we met a dozen or more patriots coming in whom we recognized as gallant wearers of Earl Long badges until midnight previous struck.

"We went sadly home musing on the changeless fact that human nature doesn't change much from age to age."

We Are "Set" Already

Grenada and Grenada County are fortunate in that they have in Jackson 1-48 of the legislative power of this state in the person of Senator W. A. Winter, who has not and will not vote for any of this "wild" stuff.

Any hell-raising and resoluting that we do in Grenada will be but idle gestures for "we already have what we want", a man who is already "fixed", not by threats, intimidation and resolutions of protest, but by his own conscience and good sense.

We do not need to pass resolutions and raise hell about increase in sales tax, for "our man" is already "agin" it; and our resolutions and protests, etc, will have no effect on senators and representatives from other areas, for these representatives and senators are are not beholden to Grenada.

We do not have to get alarmed about the proposed vicious labor law, said to be sponsored by the CIO, for the political influence of Grenada County and Yalobusha County is already "agin" it, in that this area's senator, Senator Winter, is against it.

We here in this county have no political influence over senators from OTHER districts. Our own senator is OK. Therefore, we are not alarmed, for we have already in Jackson a "chock" to help stop this damn fool stuff now pending, and that's as far as Grenada's influence extends.

How Can We Stand It?

Tens of thousands of taxpayers of Mississippi are up in arms today worrying about "how we can stand" the proposed taxes which the Johnson administration proposes to place on the people.

We hope we are not cynical when we say "you asked for it, so you may as well take it without vomiting". Thousando of you folks who are now bellyaching, went to the polls on August 29th and, with inward and outward apology, voted for Mike Conner (who once saved the state), but let the world, the flesh and the devil know that you were ashamed to vote for him because "he did not speak to me", or "because he is biggity", and that you knew he could not win. In short, you fellows who are howling today—at least many of you—had potential influence enough to elect Mike Conner, BUT DID NOT USE IT.

You are sleeping in the bed you helped "make up".

An Evanescent Surplus

The "surplus" which Hugh White left in the treasury was not much of a surplus after all, inasmuch as most of it was already pledged to reimburse the counties for the first installment on the 1940 homestead exemption. As we have said prior to this time this "surplus" was like the "surplus" of the man whose bank balance showed $1000, when at the same time there were outstanding checks for about $900.

In other words, and in spite of contentions to the contrary, Hugh did not leave enough to brag about.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Mrs. J. J. Williams, who used to be about the prettiest gal in Grenada, and may still be, has been added to our mailing list. She and her family now live in Sarasota, Florida.

The saloonkeepers are getting a little skittish and gun-shy here lately. That "Mene, mene, tekel upharsin" you see is the handwriting on the wall, they say.

As far as we have been able to observe, every defeated candidate is taking his dose of defeat with good grace, as they should. Everyone likes and admires a good loser, as much as they do a good winner.

Willie Lee Sykes, mayor of that area, and I have changed the name from "South of the Ditch" to "South of the Border". Willie Lee and his crowd certainly played hell with the ambitions of certain officeseekers.

Mary Cain certainly is writing some stirring editorials here lately. She shore is a pretty gal. Brains and good looks exist together in Mary.

TRAIN NO. 91, GHS RAILWAY
(An Editorial)

Unfortunately there are certain students in our high school who persist in riding "Train No. 91" of the GHS Railway. "Train No. 91" is the name our student body has applied to the act of making the grade by methods in which there is no distinct border between honesty and dishonesty. It is generally conceded that the majority of the students look on the GHS as being a great system. However, sad to say, as in all other great railway systems, there is a "black sheep". In the GHS line a run which does not justify its expense in any manner. It is a losing-game line upon which No. 91 runs. Most happily there are very few of our students who are prone to ride 91. They see that this train is not as safe or as comfortable as the other trains of the system. They all entrain at Hope, the beginning point of all lines, with Success as their destination. Those that take trains other than 91, usually get there. But those who insist on riding No. 91, via the Black Sheep Line, are not likely to get to Success, but are very likely to be hurled into obscurity when No. 91 wrecks on one of the bad bridges or broken rails in the vicinity of Failure Station. Members of the student body, when you are tempted to ride this ill-fated train bear in mind that there is all to lose and nothing whatsoever to gain. As in all cases since the beginning of time, your sins will find you out.

Miss Owen Announces Cast for Senior Play

This year Miss Owen will direct the senior play, "Dotty and Daffy", to be presented early in April. Practice began last Tuesday after her announcement of the cast. The characters are:

Paxton Belmont played by William Winter. He is a tall, supercillious looking man of fifty—a regular heart-breaking Don Juan who is seeking to marry a wealthy wife.

Phyliss is played by Elizabeth Dogan. She is a handsome woman of forty, but looks younger than her age. She means well, but really doesn't know what its all about.

Jimmie and Freddie Rand are a pair of good-looking brothers of twenty-one and nineteen, who add to the complexity of the play, played by Francis Hill and Rice York.

Dotty and Daffy are the daughters of Phylis who dress up as ten-year-olds to make Mr. Paxton Belmont think that their mother is very young. They are played by Elizabeth Brooks and Charline Chapius.

Molly is an Irish cook with a decided brogue, played by Frances Davis.

Jack is a handsome, not to say pretty, youth of the gigolo type, whose dark marcelled hair gleams with oil. He is played by Dick Rule.

Aunt Hester is a tall, thin, eccentric spinster of fifty-five who will not leave her fortune to Phyllis unless she renounces men forever. This part is played by Martha Jane Kettle.

Hugh is a tall, handsome, well-groomed man of forty-five, the other man in Phyliss' life. He is played by Posey Gant.

Hopkins is a smug-looking English type butler who wears side-burns. He is played by Kenneth Nail.

Hilda is a raw-boned Swedish maid of about twenty. This part is played by Dorothy Whitaker.

The play was written by Jay Tobias and Miss Turner thinks it the funniest she has ever read.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

Wednesday morning in chapel we were delightfully entertained by three plays presented by the Dramatic Club. The first play "Who's That Man" was presented by Betty Gresham and Frances Kincaid. The next one, "Of Course", was enacted by Doris Milner, Frances Calloway, Mozelle MacCaula, Mary Ida Odom and Dorothy Parks. "Look Out for Louise" was played by Margurite Stanley, Lucy Moss, Lillian York, and Betty Esther Edwards.

Captain Lee of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, made a most impressive talk on the dangers of breaking the highway laws and cautioned us to obey them. Most of the 407 deaths on the highway last year were caused by drunken drivers. He told us of several tragic incidents that he had witnessed and we all resolved to be more careful of our driving.

ALUMNI NEWS

From Belhaven comes the news that Helen Horton was elected "Miss Personality" of the freshman class. We remember Helen pleasantly as a remarkable musician and a girl of sunny disposition.

It was with much regret that we heard the news concerning Prichard Horton's operation at Mayo.

Frank York, whom we remember as "Shy" is making an outstanding student at Mississippi State where has made more than the required number of honor points.

DOTS AND DASHES ON DIZZY DUDS

Flash—It's Spring! How do we know? Mary Lou Cullen all decked out like a spray of lilacs in a lavender princess dress with white pearl buttons down the front and as if that wasn't enough, she also blossomed out in white moccasins and socks.

Mary Elizabeth Horton has been seen wearing a dress which has the spring-like name "Rosemist."

Frances Herring was buzzing around lately in a charming dress of aqua spun rayon.

Emma Grace Hardy looks very collegiate in a wintergreen skirt, white blouse and brown short-sleeved dress.

The campus is really blooming with new white sweaters, set off by costume jewelry, saddle oxfords, bright ribbons and novelty belts, rings and lockets.

Margie Collins looked very chic in a black dress and long-sleeved bolero. The dress was trimmed with bright plaid silk.

Ann Odom recently brought out a new idea in sweaters—all around the neck and down the front her deep blue sweater was trimmed with a heavy cream lace.

Winfred Saunders looked like a picture in an ensemble made of green and blue flowered skirt and white shirt. The finishing touches were a navy bolero and a scarf made of the same material as the skirt.

Why, goodness gracious, here it is 2:25. I've been so interested in all these new spring clothes I've even forgotten to watch the clock. Bye now,

KATY

Sorry to report that the boys whom the great Marquis turned into rabbits are boys again.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves met Thursday to continue their program of last meeting. Mrs. Granberry came back to help again, and after a short Scripture reading, songs, old and new, were practiced. They were: Litany of Thanks, Girl Reserves Code Song, Celito Linda, Picture A Spot, Just Like A Gypsy, and Call of the Fire.

FRESHMAN NEWS
(Betty Edwards)

We were glad to have Evelyn Smith visit us Wednesday. She was a member of Grenada High School before moving.

We have missed the following students within the last two weeks with the "flu": Mabel Thompson, Josephine Parranco, Lucille Floyd, Lynn Rose, and Rogers Pleasants.

Lillian, you'll just have to work a little harder, he's kind of hard to get.

Ernestine is still sticking to H. P. L. through thick and thin.

G.H.S. DIRT

Heard in Algebra II class: How am I going to rescue X out of that maze?

College student to another: What are you majoring in?

High school student to another: Who are you majoring in?

Austine Kelly received a new gold compact ornamented with her name engraved in a heart. But she won't tell who gave it to her; and oh, she and Walter are "just friends" again.

Benton Keeton, whose picture are you cherishing to stingily? Maybe after a while, you can get her picture without stealing it.

"I have a new romance" croons Price Harrison to Margie Collins (and her still wearing the Margie-Henry I-eart pin!).

Valentine Day over, the candy business is suffering; George Washington's birthday here and GHS dirt very limited.

Miss Turner imitating the trend initiated by Coach Hathorne, whittled a "Board of Education" for herself and her pupils.

A little freshman, after watching John Keeton practice for several hours on his slide trombone, said "There's a trick to that, he's not really swallowing that thing."

What They Do At Noon . . .

Emma Grace and Max talk on the steps. Mickey and Gracie walk down the front walk, Mickey walks backward to face Gracie. Maude Adams Shelton, Betty Gresham, Floyd Theisman and Ruth Thomas in cafeteria at noon talking to Miss Nannie—Mae Bailey and Sue Rowell study shorthand in the study hall—Tom Hardy rocks gently in his sleep in the study hall—Jeff Whitaker brings Katherine Harrison to school in "their" car—Bernice Jones walks with Francis Hill or Tommy Houston—Lillian York tells jokes and laughs at them by herself—William Winter walks with Carolyn and offers everybody Spearmint gum.

Jackie reported having a grand time at the Ole Miss dance—she can hardly wait to go to school up there, and her reports of college life make us dissatisfied here.

Love's Hit Parade (by Joyce Fleming)

"Confucius Say" you just have to be "In The Mood" to keep up with this "Changing World" while Jack Hudson plays "All the Things You Are" to Margurite Stanley. Frances Kincaid sings "Oh, S.B., oh S. B., How You Do Love"! During Katie Carlisle's Christmas vacation, Kenneth caught himself singing "South of the Border, Down Florida Way". At noon you see Isabel wandering around and E. R. wandering around and singing "Are You Careless, or Do You Just Careless for me". Off in a corner, we find Vera Payne trilling "Do I Love You, Do I?"

Mickey and Gracie Angevine's favorite song is "My Prayer". Sue Rowell comes to school singing "Darn That Dream".

L. S. McKnight, TAX ASSESSOR
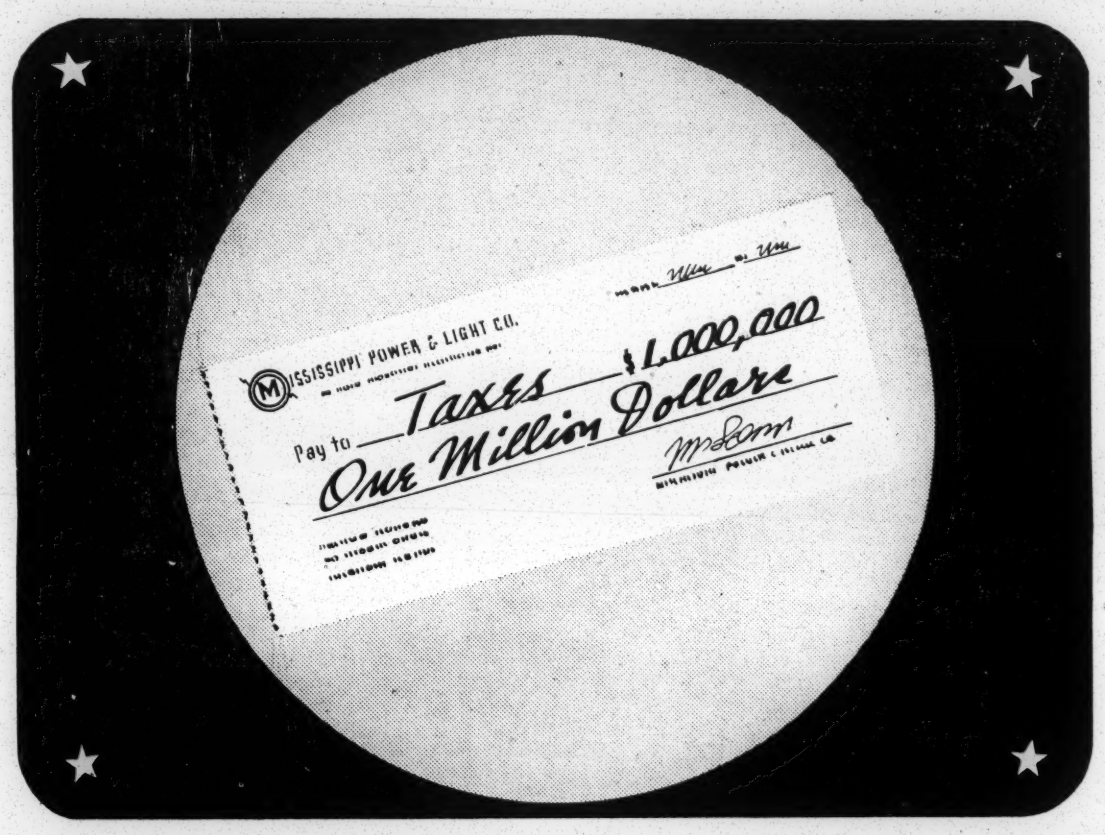
by Ouida Chapius, Deputy



Of the money you paid us last year over $1,000,000 went to pay our taxes! Every day our taxes are over $2,200! They are equal to $13.00 per average customer! They are equal to $1,000 per average employee! If used for that purpose our taxes would pay the annual cost of common school education for 50,000 school children – or pave 50 miles of modern highway – indeed a million dollars is a lot of money.

EVERY YEAR we write a big tax check — and at tax-paying time we realize that a million dollars is a lot of money. OUR ASSESSMENT IN THE LAST TEN YEARS HAS INCREASED FROM $5,982,008.00 TO $9,432,819.00. Our taxes go a long way toward operating city, county, state, and federal governments. We are glad to contribute our fair share of this expense as a good citizen.

Why YOU Should Use
SARAH GLEN EGGS

FIRST—There are none better.

SECOND—Because Purina Feed purchased from your good dealer Quinn's Milk Products Co. in 1939 cost $497.68. Eleven thousand pounds of which was shipped in cotton bags weighing 47.5 pounds.

THIRD—This feed was shipped here by Purina Mills of St. Louis, Missouri, via the Illinois Central Railroad Co., who are the largest tax payers in Grenada County.

FOURTH—I carry on my work with the aid of others whom I pay well.

FIFTH—Because this is all being done on waste land that was turned out until 1928.

Some Observations On Political Affairs In and About Jackson

The "average" man is going to catch hell if the payrollers at Jackson get across many more such damnfool things as they have already put across.

The only hope we ever had was the State Senate, and hope is fading there.

For the record, let it be said that Grenada County did not vote for the average man schemes. Its representatives, if he is truly representative of the majority of Grenada voters, will not vote for Governor Jornson's wild schemes.

The next bill likely to be introduced to get revenue is to tax a man six bits for every sound tooth in his head.

From the Comer budget of 22 million, the Johnson crowd wants to raise the budget to 44 million or more. Can each tax payer stand to pay TWICE the taxes he paid six years ago. If he cannot, he had better begin raising hell and writing his representative.

A conservative man told us that he thought that Governor Johnson would forget what Candidate Johnson said. Now this man hopes Governor Johnson will confine himself and his project is to a minimum of what he advocated.

Mississippi is on a free ride, headed straight for conditions that pre vailed in Louisiana for many years. If something is not done to head these wild men in the House, we move the name be changed to Louisissippi.

Head these wild spenders of other folks money. They are about to bankrupt the state.

We used to think that Hugh had his payrollers under good control. Hugh's boys were as a herd of wild mavericks compared to the docile bunch that Lum Sumkin, Dennis Murphree and Paul Johnson have down there wet-nursing.

Pass the labor bill, and some scissorbill inspector will make you throw away the oak seat on your commode and install one of this here enameled stuff.

Pass this labor bill and some snooper with a badge will make you throw away the basket of corn cobs and the tattered copies of Sears Roebuck catalogs at your ground-hog saw mill and buy a lot of this fancy paper in long, endless rolls.

Increase the sales tax and hear the mail order houses whoop it up. Listen to the cheers from Memphis. Tear down Mississippi and build Memphis, Chicago and Detroit.

How are you going to pay it?

How many hands can you farmers get if every old negro 65 or more draws $30.00 a month? All the grandchildren will come in and live on grandma's and grandpa's pension money.

How many cooks can you get with one-third of the negroes drawing $30.00 per month?

Anyway, the man who has something will get ONE break. He will get free books, just like his poor neighbor, if you can call anything from the state "free".

Just any day, one is likely to see a big headline in the Clarion-Ledger "Poll Taxes Abolished", and what then? That will mean that a deed to Mississippi to the crowd now in power will have been signed, sealed and delivered.

Grenada County did not favor all this damnfoolishness, and this should be remembered to its eternal and everlasting honor and glory.

If they put over everything now advocated, which is extremely likely, let's call back the Chockfaws from Oklahoma and give the state back to them - if they will accept it.

Grenada County did not vote for this give-away, throw-away tear-down and drag-out stuff.

Increase the sales tax, and watch our local automobile dealers, already handicaped by two percent, fold their tents and give up.

We suggest most seriously that the House members get a book on economics and study the chapter devoted to the Law of Dimimishing Returns. It will be a revelation to them, if they can understand what they read.

Even Paul Johnson and his average man cannot repeal the law of dimimishing returns and the other fundamental laws of economics.

Grenada county, as stated above, voted AGAINST this average man stuff.

Fred Griffin Opened Station Saturday

Saturday was the date for the formal opening of the Pan-Am service station in connection with Fred Griffin's Buick and Pontiac sales and service agency here on Green and South Streets. In spite of the bad weather, Fred and Ray Lewis, who looks after the service station, report that they were more than pleased with the business, and that the four individuals who received gratis each 50 gallons of gasoline are also highly pleased. Their new office facing Second Street has been fitted up with handsome new desks and equipage, artistic floor coverings, and other modern facilities for efficient discharge of business. A number of friends sent bouquets to adorn the place during the opening period.

Fred has just recently added to his testing and service equipment, a modern machine which, at one operation, tests the front wheel alignment and the other delicate adjustments so essential in the modern high speed car. This machine is the only one of its kind in Grenada, and said to be the only one in this immediate territory.

All in all, "Beale" Street is coming out.

Speaking of Hortons, Hurd reports that he picked up Sam Mims in his car the other day, and the car bucked and jumped from the square to Snider Street, and that, immediately he had put Sam out, the car began running like a top. He wondered if Sam being a Connerite had anything to do with it.
